financial [illegible] affairs were in its hand. It kept the books and paied the officers' mess and troops pay. The debts incured by the district towards him were paid by this department; it kept the books as these and sent them to the resp. department of Gge. Headquarters. Premiums give by the district Co. for good war were also paid by it. Meal-cards and the money paid-in for them was handled by it as well as the „leave-tickets" and transportation-certificates: The proper usage of labor was supervised by it.

Automobile subdepartment: The strength of the Badigoard lay mainly in the fact, that if the necessity arose, it was able to close the depot area for a distance of 20-25 but occasionally to 50 km.-s. This could be achieved through motorisation of all the reserve units. These kinds transported the troops and their immediate superiors (squad, platoon and comp. com.-s.). Higher officers (district co., Intelligence co., Staff co., etc.) were transported by [illegible] special-usage vehicles. The automob. subdepartment maintained the vehicles and supervised their proper usage. The co. was responsible in person for the military serviceability of the cars.

It supervised the proper usage of motor-bicycles issued to defense officers and theirs issued to the signal-units, troop-batalions and units. It provided fuel and reserve parts. It organized periodical chauffeurs' special courses.

Veterinary subdepartment was headed by the vet. felon usually a [illegible]-ad lieut. Supervised and procured vehicles, canvas for the grooms and dog-leaders of the district. Supervised the animals' health. The proper fodder and medicines were procured by him. Every yr. the new grooms and dog-leaders were chosen by him and then were sent to the schools of the Unit. Of interia for dog trainers resp. to the Badigoard grooms' school. Had independence in veterinary affairs.
